Book #6 – Current Events

Choose two current event articles from a newspaper or online news site that you believe your main character would be interested in reading, or would have an interest in based on their likes, dislikes, personality, etc. Cut out and tape/glue onto a separate sheet of paper these two articles. Or, if online articles, print out the articles you have chosen. On this handout, explain how your character would respond to each of the articles and the opinions your character would have about what was happening in the articles. This is not from your character's point-of-view, but from your own in determining how you believe your character would react to the articles you have chosen.
